attending scientific events

Deadline: February 1, 2019 (5pm CET)

RadioNet support for Transnational Access users attending scientific events

RadioNet is an EC funded project, which brings together the premier radio astronomical facilities in Europe to serve a growing research community across Europe and beyond. The aim is to promote and strengthen RadioNet infrastructures (EVN, e-MERLIN, NOEMA, IRAM-30m, LOFAR, Effelsberg, APEX and ALTA) and technical developments (research activities AETHRA, BRAND EVN AND RINGS).

RadioNet offers free of charge access to the best radio astronomical infrastructures in the frame of the Transnational Access programme (TA). The dissemination of the scientific results obtained in the framework of the TA programme is of utmost importance.

Under the RadioNet scientific dissemination activity, individual TA users can request funding for disseminating of their results obtained at a RadioNet infrastructure by giving talks at international scientific events.

In case of no confirmed oral presentation by the application deadline, a support would be granted conditionally.

The scientific events should be held within the time period May 2019 – January 2020. The application can be submitted

Please send the application in PDF-format to RadioNet@mpifr.de

Deadline: February 1, 2019, 5 pm (CET)

The evaluation of the submitted applications will be announced within 3 weeks after the submission deadline. You are welcome to contact the activity leader Dr. Michael Lindqvist for more information about the RadioNet scientific dissemination programme and/or the RadioNet management for assistance.

Sincerely,

RadioNet Management
